

How the University of Texas Police Used ENHANCED ICS FORMS FOR SUPERIOR EVENT PLANNING

“I have begun to use Omnigo Command and Planning to conduct all collaborative planning for all major events. The ability of the Incident Commander to give clear commander intent and immediately begin to get clarification regarding individual team leader assignments is a huge efficiency increase from the traditional handwritten or simple typed form planning.” Sergeant Scott Barnwell, University of Texas Police

CHALLENGE

- ▶ Pre-planning for sporting events, graduations, and VIP visits
- ▶ Planning for emergency incidents including active shooters and hurricane evacuations
- ▶ Sharing situational awareness data with other campuses, campus administrators, and local fire and police departments that may respond to the campus for mutual aid

SOLUTION

The department was able to deploy Omnigo Command and Planning, powered by Rhodium and the Enhanced ICS Form module to create detailed Event Action Plans and share them electronically with outside organizations and shareholders.

RESULTS

The process of creating Event Action Plans typically took several hours, but with the use of the Enhanced ICS Form module, this process can now be completed in less than an hour in most cases.
